County Officials Seek 'Gimmick' For Broadway

Hope to Discover Way to Acquire Right of Way

County officials were searching this week for a "gimmick" that might allow them to acquire the right of way needed for the widening of one block on Broadway.

The block, between Main and Olive, is a bottleneck at the east end of the recently-widened western stretch of the street.

West of the block, the street is four lanes wide, with parking at both outer curbs. East of the block is the somewhat congested but navigable section from Imperial on through the business district.

Property owners in the bottleneck block are Tony Sonka, who owns the entire southern side; Southland Savings and Loan Assn., which owns half of the northern side, and Sam Kahn, who owns the property on which Don Diego Market is located.

The property owners met last week with Larry Folda, Helen Moulton, James Spears and Wallace Dorman of the Chamber of Commerce, along with County Supervisor Dave Bird, to discuss the widening of the block.

Sonka agreed to give the county a 15-foot strip along his property if the others would do likewise. Kahn agreed too. But John Davis, representing Southwest Savings, said that because of the federal regulations which govern banking institutions his company could not give its property to the county.

So the others backed off from their offers.

Bird told the group that he would have Road Superintendent David K. Speer find out how the county might go about acquiring the property, but added that there are no funds available now to pay for it.

Speer is to see if the county can lease the property at a minimum rate for a couple of years and then buy it, meanwhile going ahead with the widening project immediately. An alternative proposal is that the county buy the property but pay for it in installments.

A report is to be made to the local committee as soon as a solution is found.

Circus Sales Days Here Termed 'Good;' More Events Coming

Can a close-by business community thrive in face of a huge, new shopping center? The answer is yes.

There were those who were not so sure that business would remain robust after College Grove shopping center opened its myriad doors but the uncertainty faded last week when Lemon Grove business firms staged their annual Circus of Values to attract old customers and new. They were also out to prove that loyalty is a valued commodity. To this end local business firms sponsored a junior-sized circus and built a merchandising promotion around it.

Old customers, new customers, young ones and not-so-young ones came. As a matter of fact more than 27,000 tickets were used at the circus. These were supplied by local merchants for rides and admission. In all it was a bang-up week. Our roving reporter ambled through town and took a sampling of the business pulse of the community earlier this week and this is what he reported:

Vera Gamble, Mary Monroe: "Last week was very good. It was far in excess of our expectations in face of the center's opening. We want to plan another promotion right away."

Clifton Clark, Tri City TV: "I was well pleased in spite of the hardship of selling my type of merchandise during an event of this kind."

Mrs. Ralph Rella, Rella's Shoes: "Thursday and Friday were good days for us. Saturday things dropped a little. If the circus had been in the center of town as it was last year it would have been better. Last year parents could leave their children at the circus while they shopped."

Olin Blount, Brumley's Shoes: "It was a very successful promotion and we equalled last year's figures in spite of the opening of the center. This proves what can be done if we promote and compete."

Mrs. Leone Moore, Lemon Grove Yardage: "We're real satisfied. It was not as big for

Circus Termed Less Successful Than Last Year

The circus and carnival at Broadway and Washington in Lemon Grove was somewhat less than a success last weekend.

The carnival opened hours later than first announced, due to the necessity for digging under the edge of several of the rides so the equipment wouldn't bump on the ground.

In its four-day run, the carnival drew 27,000 people—as compared to the 50,000 that it drew last July. Last year, the circus and carnival combination was so successful that its operators held it over for an additional three-day weekend run.

Helen Moulton, manager of the local chamber of commerce, said that the circus' promotion manager had told her that the event was "not as successful this year as it was last year."

She said that the circus man, Chaz Salyer, blamed:

(1) Competition from the opening of College Grove Center;

(2) The fact that this was the second year for the circus "and the appeal is never as good in the second year as it was in the first;"

(3) Bad location; breakdown of some equipment; interference by television coverage of the political conventions, which kept Bozo the Clown from promoting his appearance here.

Chamber Tells Meeting Schedule

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce has announced the schedule of committee meetings for the month of August. All committee members are invited to attend.

The membership committee will meet August 16 at noon, at Michaels restaurant. Chairman is E. Gustafason.

August 23 the welcome committee will meet at noon at Michaels, with Milt Austin as chairman.

Publicity committee will meet August 24 at Michaels at noon with chairman Jim Boyd.

The lighting committee board and finance committee also have meetings planned for the month.

Merchants Fight Back, Win Shopper Battle

Lemon Grove merchants last week accepted a challenge tossed out earlier by George Scott.

And both of them won the contest.

Scott, owner of the Walker Scott department store which opened last week along with 17 other stores at College Grove Center, had told the Lemon Grove merchants that there was only one way for either shopping district to succeed.

"You have to fight us," Scott said. "You can't depend on the loyalty of your old customers.

"They'll be loyal if they can get the best merchandise, the best service and the best prices at your store."

He urged the merchants to promote their businesses diligently.

Last week when Walker Scott and the other stores held their grand openings, Lemon Grove merchants staged a "circus of values."

And they found that hundreds of local residents wanted to shop in the Lemon Grove stores and take advantage of the bargains. There were lots of people at College Grove's opening, of course, but there also were lots of people in the Lemon Grove stores.

George Scott had proved his point, and the Lemon Grove merchants had won the battle.

WINNER

Mrs. Alma Morero, 413 Broadview, Spring Valley, won a Big Boy barbecue and a 15-pound hen Saturday as prizes at Don Diego Market in Lemon Grove. Mrs. Morero, a recent arrival in the area, said "This is a wonderful place and Don Diego is wonderful too."

Master Park Plan Ready for Study

Citizens Groups To Hear Report At Meeting

Parks Director Sees Park As 'Quiet Spot'

A tentative master plan for the development of a "green spot" park at Washington and Alton streets in Lemon Grove will be presented to citizens' groups August 15.

Rev. E. Walter Smith, president of the Coordinating Council, which has been playing host lately to joint meetings of civic groups, said that the plan should lead to definite action to establish the parkk.

Smith was a member last week of a special committee which consulted with Cletus (Biff) Gardner, county director of parks and recreation. Others in the committee were Dorothy Nottingham, chairman; Frank Armstrong, representing the Youth Center; Webb Carson, representing youth baseball; and Mrs. Vernon Block, of the Junior Women's Club.

Gardner, Smith said, gave the group a tentative master plan for the proposed park. The plan shows the park split into several distinct areas—with the entire park surrounded by a double row of trees "to protect the neighborhood against noise."

The park, Gardner told the committee, is designed as a "quiet" park with no group activities that would create disturbance or noise.

The master plan shows a "tot lot" adjacent to Washington; a picnic area beyond that; then an area for swings, slides and other play equipment.

Local organizations probably will be called on, Smith said to help with providing the equipment and facilities necessary for the park.

The plan is to be presented at the joint meeting of the civic groups at 7:30 p.m. Monday, August 15, at the Lemon Grove junior high school auditorium.

FILES CLAIMS

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Two claims of $5,743.80 in connection with work for the Lemon Grove Sanitation district have been filed, one against the district, the other against Carrol and Meyer Construction Co. Harold B. Warren is asking for the money because of damage allegedly done to his property.

NEW DIRECTORY—Mrs. Betty Luna, right, discusses new Lemon Grove home and business directory with Helen Moulton, manager of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce. New directory is being distributed to 8,000 homes and businesses. This year's book is larger than last year's, and has an up-to-date map of Lemon Grove in the center. Special information packets for businessmen moving to Lemon Grove will be prepared by the Chamber; the packets will contain a new directory. Mrs. Luna and her Urban Directory Co. of Lemon Grove prepared the directory. —Staff Photo

The DIMMER VIEW

by MAX GOODWIN

The controversy which raged Monday in the supervisors' chambers over the proposed four-by-four property split ordinance is part and parcel of a demand that the supervisors fire Dr. Willis Miller, county director of planning.

The new property split ordinance, sponsored by Dr. Miller, will close the loophole on property developers who may now legally, if not morally, whack larger pieces of property up into smaller ones without providing streets, curbs, water or sewer facilities.

The present ordinance permits breaking property into four pieces without filing a subdivision plan. If as many as five pieces result, the developer must provide subdivision services.

The loophole through which some subdividers crawl is the one in which the first four splits are then split four ways again, and these segments are again quartered, and so on as long as a supply of names lasts. The names would be those of family and friends rather than purchasers. The object, quite obviously, is to avoid the cost of streets, water, sanitation, and curbs. The developer makes his profit without too great an investment and the latter day home owner becomes the repository for the obligation of vital services.

Obviously too, rank and file property owners, with barely enough ground to plant geraniums, has little interest in the ordinance. Logically, then, it is mostly land developers and

Grove Man Named to New Road Committee

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Members of the recently-appointed committee to establish a county road policy have met to organize, and have elected D. R. Grable as chairman and Norma Lighthart as vice chairman.

Grable is president of the San Diego Taxpayers Assn., and was also chairman of the citizen's committee which presented to the County Board of Supervisors the hotly controversial draft of an ordinance controlling divisions of land. He resides in La Mesa and is in the real estate business.

Lighthart, a Lemon Grove realtor, represents the San Diego Highway Development Assn. on the committee.

The matters on which the committee is to recommend policy to Supervisors include conditions under which rights of way should be accepted without cost, what the county should do about improving such rights of way, vacations of rights of way possible taxes for local street improvements. cooperative agreements for road work between county and property owners and conditions under which general county funds, instead of gas tax funds, should be used for road work.

The following are the other committee members. Donald Short, Poway; William A. Averil and Mrs. C. A. Holcomb, Dulzura; Jack T. Hart and Roger W. Whitacre, El Cajon; James Fuquay, Boulevard; E. A. Lawrence, La Mesa, and Harry J. Woodson, Frank O. Daly, Wallace E. Boas, Syd Smith and E. W. Blom, all of San Diego.

They were made committee members either by appointment by Supervisors or as representatives of the San Diego Farm Bureau, the highway association, surveyors and engineers, planning groups and the taxpayers association.

Three county officers are on the committee: David K. Speer, road commissioner; Willis H. Miller, planning director, and Robert G. Berrey, deputy county counsel.

Supervisors OK Write-Off of Library Books

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Book losses in the county library totaled 1,578 for the fiscal year 1958-59, according to Frances A. Hahn, the county librarian. She called this "one of the smallest percentages of loss in the country."

The county Board of Supervisors approved the removal of the books from the library inventory as lost and paid for, missing, and lost and not paid for. The books have an inventory value of $3,676.

Miss Hahn said the library has about 200,000 books.

High School Tax Rate Rises as Budget Adopted

The Grossmont high school district board of trustees this week adopted a budget of $7,460,015 for the 1960-61 year.

The new budget calls for an increase in the tax rate of 7 cents per $100 valuation. Of this increase, 2 cents is to cover increase in current operation and 5 cents "for other purposes."

The "other purposes" include $321,000 for payment on the employes retirement fund, community services, and repayment on a state building loan.

The increase in the budget amounted to $1,196,438 or 21.2 per cent. Meanwhile the enrollment in the district is expected to rise 20.2 per cent. The budgeted cost per pupil for current expenses is $485, compared to an estimated state average of $540.

Included in the budget were amounts to provide for major medical insurance and salary increases.

The board decided to withhold action on these two items until the August 22 meeting when the complete assessed valuation becomes known and which will include the assessment of public utilities.

The board also approved calling for bids on a $50 deductible major medical insurance plan but will withhold action until September 12.

Storm Drain May End Mosquito Menace Here

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — The county road department and the public works department have been ordered to investigate the feasibility of a storm drain in Lemon Grove to correct a mosquito menace.

The Board of Supervisors acted on a letter from Frank E. Rogers, 7503 Tweed st., Lemon Grove. Rogers said standing water in his area attracts mosquitoes; he asked for a drain from Tweed street south to a canyon to correct the situation.

Dr. J. B. Askew, in a letter accompanying Rogers', said the proposed drain would solve the problem, but added that the health department treats the standing pool weekly during the summer and bi-weekly in winter months.

Meet Your Neighbor

Meet Doris and Leo Forget, who, with their 5-year-old son Michael, are a Spring Valley baseball family.

Doris was born in Detroit, Mich., is a team mother and vice president of the Women's Auxiliary for the Spring Valley Little League, enjoys gardening and baseball.

Leo was born in Montreal, Canada, works for Shepersky Quality Masonry as a brick mason, is manager of the Astros in the Little League, (son Mike is bat boy for this same team); his favorite hobbies are photography and, you guessed it, baseball.

The Forgets believe in supporting one activitiy at a time, to their fullest, and so contribute greatly to whatever they decide to participate in. Doris said "This is a great community to be a part of." We feel this should be amended by adding, "because of neighbors such as these."

Complaint Dept.

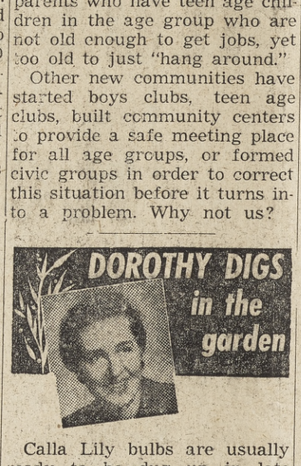
Have you noticed that all activities in the community are centered around children under 12, and adults? This was brought to our attention by parents who have teen age children in the age group who are not old enough to get jobs, yet too old to just "hang around."

Other new communities have started boys clubs, teen age clubs, built community centers to provide a safe meeting place for all age groups, or formed civic groups in order to correct this situation before it turns into a problem. Why not us?



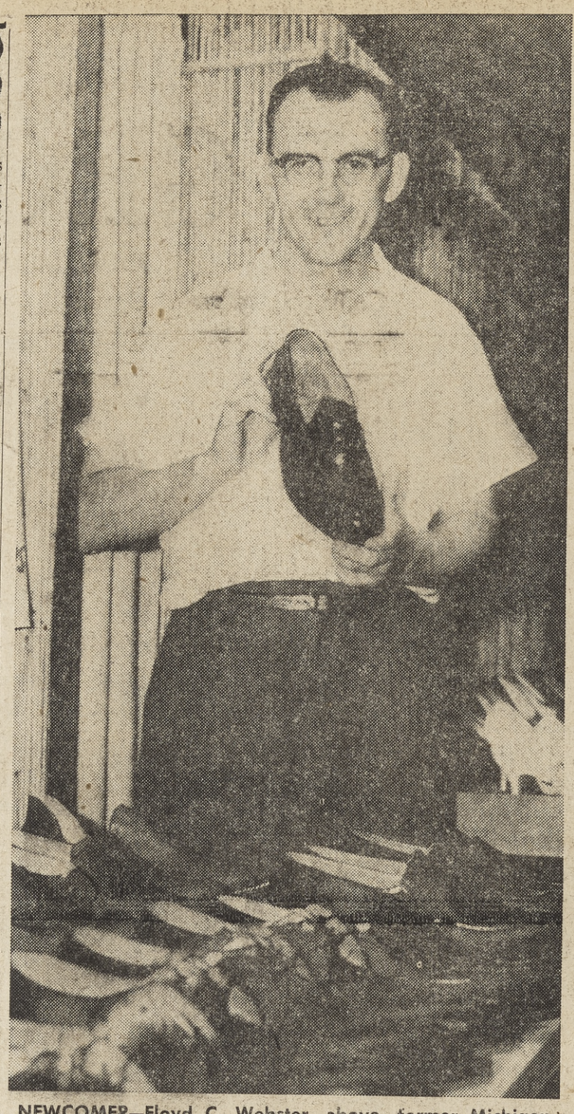
Calla Lily bulbs are usually ready to be dug up in late July or early August, and October is ample time to replant them.

I recommend, before storing any bulbs, that you roll them in a good all-purpose dust. A tomato dust containing sulphur and pyrethrins is excellent because this protects them from fungus and also destroys hibernating insect life.

If the bulbs are coated with this dust while they are in storage, they will be in fine condition for planting. Don't crowd them closely together in storage but just leave them rather loose and put them in a cool well-aired place.

Daffodils and narcissus should either be dug up or separated at this time and replanted in early September; if you dig them up, follow the above procedure for storing.

If you decide to leave them in the ground they should be separated and thinned out, in which case, it is a very healthy practice to disinfect the soil with a copper-ether product.



NEWCOMER—Floyd C. Webster, above, former Michigan and Oregon shoe store manager now living in San Diego, has bought Purtee's shoe store at 7741 Pacific in Lemon Grove. Webster said that the family will move to Lemon Grove shortly, after their seventh child is born. The new store owner has nine years experience in the business. —Staff Photo

Once Over Lightly

by Don Wilson

A remarkably unsuccessful circus-carnival closed a four-day run in Lemon Grove Sunday and almost nobody was sorry to see it go.

Last year's carnival-circus was not the best in the world, but the kids and adults enjoyed it. It had some problems—among which was inadequate space—but it went over rather well.

And on the strength of this success, the merchants association contracted to have the circus back again.

They shouldn't have done it.

The circus-carnival this year was set up on a lot which was covered with prickly weeds that scratched the youngsters' legs. And while the tiny little kids weren't fighting the scratchy weeds they were falling in the cracks in the hard dirt.

Electric cables were strung around where everybody had to walk on them—and even at that there should have been more of the cables, because when it came time for the circus acts to go on, there weren't any lights by which the audience could see.

There were woefully few booths along the "midway" and about half the rides either weren't operating at all, or they were surrounded by piles of dirt where the workers had had to dig into the ground to keep the merry-go-round, octopus and other rides from banging into the ground as they turned.

In the penny arcade (where nothing is a penny anymore) there were several dilapidated coin-operated games that wouldn't work for most people because the instructions on them were so faded that most people couldn't find out how to work the gadgets.

The circus itself, if you could see it at all, probably could have been beaten by home talent dug up right in Lemon Grove.

If another circus comes to town next year—and the merchants will be nuts if they okay it—we'll probably go see it anyway.

After all, it couldn't very well be worse than the one this year.

Use Sense About Sun

There's nothing more uncommon than common sense, says the old adage. Just look at the thousands of people roasting their bodies on the beach.

Everyone knows that the sun's rays can burn the delicate human epidermis. Everyone knows that it's wise to tan gradually. Yet millions of us will try to get a whole season's suntan in a single weekend. We'll turn lobster-red, blister, swell, and peel. We'll be miserable on Monday, feel better by Friday, and try again on Saturday. Some will be burned seriously enough to need medical attention.

Why do we do it? The therapeutic value of sunshine, highly rated in the past, has been scaled down by modern medical opinion. We have more reliable sources of Vitamin D in butter, milk, eggs, cod liver oil, and vitamin pills, not to mention the many foods that have artificially needed vitamins.

Let's face it. We lie in the sun purely for pleasure and vanity. If we must do it, let's make it as easy on ourselves as possible. Use a preparation that screens out the burning rays of the sun. Reapply it frequently, because perspiration as well as bathing will wash it off. Start with ten minutes of exposure and increase the dosage gradually through the season. Wear good sunglasses. Lubricate the skin to prevent drying. Keep your hair covered so it won't become brittle and discolored real estate people who are supplying energy for controversy. These are centered primarily in the north county where large, underdeveloped tracts exist.

The DIMMER VIEW

To implement the determination to get Miller fired, petitions are being circulated begging the supervisors to apply the axe to him. At least one petition is being circulated locally by a Lemon Grove land developer.

We suspect the petitions will not be acted upon by the supervisors since Miller is only trying to put teeth into an already existing law which has been set up by the state. The clamor created by the dissidents partially obscures the fact that all they are complaining about is that Dr. Miller is an arbitrary administrator and is not popular with the public.

Should the supervisors pass the petitions on to the Civil Service Commission, under whose authority Miller holds his job, the Commission may, or may not, agree that Miller suffers notoriously poor public relations but this is hardly justification for firing him. The petitioners carefully avoid charging him with dishonesty.

Miller's trouble is probably his desire to win every argument. He knows planning and planning law, but he is prone to push his erudition down the throats of those who are at variance with him. He wins most of the arguments but he loses a lot of business. . .the business here being a taxpayer who is satisfied that he has received fair and just treatment. Instead, he often gets the feeling that he is considered a push-pin on the planning department's wall chart.

Locally, we recall the impassioned plea of a resident for a variance of eighteen inches for one corner of a house to be built on an "S" turn on Cypress st. in Lemon Grove where all the other houses are cocked around at various angles. The department was arbitrary. The owner was forced to put in an expensive retaining wall at the rear of his house to compensate for the variance turndown. The department showed additional hostility when the taxpayer asked for advice and got merely a recitation of the law. Because of this atmosphere it has been possible for the petition circulators to get signatures.

Contrary as it may seem, we are among those who respect Dr. Miller's planning ability in spite of our opinion of his modus operandi. We believe him to be a sincere and honest government employe although he appears to be totally devoid of tact. This belief finds some support among certain supervisors and even within Miller's own department. Tact, as we all know, is the ability to say "no" and yet hold the admiration and respect of those who have been refused. In this respect Miller might study the workings of his fellow workers; two great artists of deplomacy—John McQuilken the assessor, and Wilbur Easton, the tax collector: No two men took away so much from so many, and still appear to be sainted.

No, the petitions will not cause the firing of Dr. Miller. However, enough of this type of harassment might cause him to resign.

It would be far better for Dr. Miller to overcome the condition by which he finds himself at disharmony with the people he is called upon to plan for. He could do this as readily as McQuilken or Easton and no one accuses them of compromising their integrity. Once done, Miller might find the experience extremely pleasant.

We think Miller's experience and knowledge are much too valuable to be lost in a maelstrom of personal abuse of those who would sacrifice him for a quicker real estate dollar.

Proponents for incorporation, a few years ago, explained that the proposed city of Lemon Grove would receive sales tax in excess of $250,000. At that time the College Grove Shopping Center was still in the developer's mind.

Proponents for incorporation, somewhat skeptical of the center ever being built, said that another $500,000 might be recovered from sales tax from the development.

Opponents of incorporation decried the estimate; said it was too high. The City of San Diego felt the center was worthwhile and took immediate steps to annex the College Grove land.

Today the center is open and business is booming. Business is also thriving in Lemon Grove although some faint-hearted people opined that the community would dry up after the center opened.

The tone and quantity of business of both the center and Lemon Grove proper has caused some observers of civic affairs to raise their sights.

Best estimate today is that Lemon Grove would produce $500,000 in sales tax returns via the Bradley Burns Sales Tax Act and that College Grove would have produced more than a million dollars.

The fact that retail business is robust will undoubtably attract additional businesses, especially "satellite" business between the shopping center and Lemon Grove boundaries. These firms could be in the City of Lemon Grove.

The income volume we have now would be sufficient to maintain a city government. The retail outlets yet to come could supply money for actually reducing the local tax burden.

There is no movement afoot for reviving incorporation but the need for local government still exists. While nothing is being done to plan for the future as a city, the nibbling off process continues. Eventually Lemon Grove will become a part of the City of San Diego by default.

Rattle Snake Killed At Valley Home

Another rattle snake has been killed in the Spring Valley area.

Mrs. Robert Honn of 9160 Ivy ln. said she was in her house Wednesday of last week when she heard the snake rattling in her yard. She called her son Bob, 18, and the two of them went into the yard, she taking a rake, and he a shovel.

They soon found the snake. Mrs. Honn held it down with the rake while Bob killed it with the shovel.

The snake measured about three feet, with eight rattles. Mrs. Honn said they have killed four rattle snakes in the 11 years they have been at the Ivy Lane address. She has been quite active in Girl Scout work for several years and is well versed on rattle snakes. She warns mothers to have their children be especially careful about treading in dry grass during the hot weather.

Series of Lobby Displays

The United States National Bank has embarked on a unique program featuring a series of lobby displays on area industry, commerce and public affairs.

The most recent presentation now on display in the lobby of the U. S. National Bank, 7859 Broadway, Lemon Grove, depicts an exhibit on the history of the Marine Corps and recruit training procedures. Shown looking at the exhibit are Sgt. Joseph Cyr, Marine Corps recruiting officer for Lemon Grove, Ann (Miss Lemon Grove) Scott, and William B. Paul, manager of the bank.

Major General Victor H. Krulak, Commanding General of the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, presented the display to Mel N. Wilson, president of U. S. National Bank, as part of a joint community relations program.

The pictorial display weighing over 500 pounds and standing 25 feet wide, was built especially for the bank by Marine Corps personnel. After being viewed by residents of Lemon Grove for the next three weeks the display will then be rotated throughout the banks 21 branch offices in San Diego, Orange and Los Angeles counties.

Future displays are planned by the San Diego Harbor Department and Pacific Telephone Co., as well as other business, industry and community organizations.

Circus of Values Termed Success In Lemon Grove

us as a similar promotion was last July but then we didn't have College Grove for competition. We need more promotions to keep business going ahead. Promotions are good for a community and we, for one, will go along with them."

R. L. Scott, Lane's Men's Wear: "The circus promotion gave us a better than normal week which makes it a success as far as we are concerned, but I prefer something other than a circus-carnival as the basis of a promotion."

Skip Degenhart, Don Diego Markets: "Wonderful. Wonderful. It seems every time we have a new market opening here and buck it with a local promotion our business goes way up!! We have been here just one year and the circus promotion came within a few dollars of equalling our Grand Opening event last July. My only complaint is that 100 per cent of the local retailers didn't participate."

Claude Sarvis, Highlander: "Good! Not excellent but we had three nice days. The promotion certainly helped."

Dick Thompson, Dial Drug: "We had a lot of activity on our advertised specials but our volume was only up 10 per cent above a normal week."

Norman Kolkey, Williams Department Store: "We might have been dead without the local sales promotion. We were busy every day of the promotion. Individual sales were smaller than the same period a year ago but all in all it was good."

Jerry Mather, Lemon Grove Department Store: "Very, very good. It was better than last year's event. We are very well satisfied with the local promotion."

Graydon Calder, Calder's Toy Town: "Our business was off due to the center's opening. Local promotions are good for the community if not for our business."

Harry Burris, Lemon Grove Drug Store: "We enjoyed a very spirited weekend of business. These promotions are good as far as they go but they don't go far enough. I'm for bigger and better sales events."

Bill Davis, Cornet Stores: "I'm very surprised and very pleased. Competition from the center didn't affect our traffic at all. In fact we had a nice increase over the similar promotion from last year. I'm for regularly scheduled promotions here in Lemon Grove. They will do us a lot of good."

United Fund Sets Goal For 1960 Campaign

The United Fund of San Diego County has set its 1960 fund raising goal at $3,250,000.

At the same time, the Fund's board of governors formally recognized $4,162,429 as the amount actually needed by the almost 100 health, welfare and social service agencies supported through the big single annual countywide campaign.

Included in this figure was $2,432,000 for the San Diego Area Community Chest and its 45 Red Feather agencies, many of which provide programs and services for Lemon Grove and Spring Valley residents.

The goal was set at the annual meeting of members at Fund headquarters, 3535 Enterprise st.

The new goal is approximately 8 per cent more than was raised in last fall's successful drive, which was the first campaign ever to pass the three million dollar mark.

"Agencies supported through this drive urgently need this money," said Herbert Kunzel, Fund president, who presided at the meeting. "It is money they must have to continue operating their vital programs and services for the people of our community."

Following the goal setting, new officers were elected and new members of the 300-man board of governors were seated.

Lemon Grove residents elected to the board include Mrs. Max Goodwin and Byron L. Netzley.

The United Fund drive will be held during September and October. Supported through it are almost 100 agencies, including all nine Community Chests in the county, all of their Red Feather agencies, plus the Red Cross and many other organizations.

STRONG ARM

Pound for pound, certain of the more common framing woods, such as Douglas fir, are actually as strong and stiff in compression or bending as fairly good steel and considerably stronger than cast iron.

American Tradition Finds Fulfilment at Penney Co.

An American tradition which began in the small mining town of Kemmerer, Wyo., in 1902 and which has been a part of the San Diego scene for almost 20 years will take on a new and colorful brilliance later this month—when T. A. Rykowski opens the spacious and ultra-modern J. C. Penney Co. department store at College Grove Center. Opening ceremonies will be attended by several civic and Penney Co. officials.

The multi-million dollar shopping center development is one of the largest projects of its kind in America. Among its many features are inclined moving sidewalks, landscaped patios and a central mall. A community hall, free for group meetings, is also a feature. Rykowski said that the Penney Co's. investment in College Grove Center will ultimately reach over $1,500,000.

Rykowski, who has had a colorful and interesting career in merchandising spanning almost 21 years, began with the Penney Co. as a management trainee in the firm's Billings, Mont., store. Subsequent moves—each with additional responsibilities—took him to Salem, Ore., in 1945 and Phoenix, Ariz., in 1953. He was appointed manager of the firm's Riverside, Calif., store in 1955 and there he remained until June of this year when he arrived in San Diego to oversee the details involved in the opening of his store in College Grove Center, one of the most up-to-date units in the 1,700-store coast-to-coast chain.

The young store manager is married to the former Alice Granmo of Glendive, Mont., and has one son, Tom Jr., aged 14. They will reside at 5750 Hunek dr., La Mesa.

Rykowski—who has been always active in many civic affairs—says that he firmly believes that the phenomenal success of the Penney Co. is due largely to the firm's sound and progressive policies. He emphasized that he will continue the long time Penney Co. policy of promotion only from within and, he stated, give increased responsibility to working associates as soon as they are able to assume them. "Personal self development will be stressed to a high degree here, he said." According to Penney Co. officials many young store executives received their initial training under Rykowski. The veteran store manager is currently grooming a large group of men at Penney's College Grove Center for future store management.

According to Rykowski, Penney's new department store will employ a combined staff of over 200 persons. This will bring to a total of over 1,000 the number of persons employed by the J. C. Penney Co. in the San Diego area. Other Penney department stores are located at North Park, Pacific Beach, National City and El Cajon.

"My staff has left no stone unturned to give San Diego one of the finest and most complete family department stores in Southern California," said the young store executive. "We have shopped not only the leading fashion houses of Los Angeles but New York, Miami, and Dallas as well. We have purchased many merchandise lines from our European headquarters in Florence, Italy and our Asiatic headquarters in Osaka, Japan."

Rykowski said that his firm, taking cognizance of the burgeoning economy of this area, has long recognized the need for a truly representative department store to serve the ever-growning needs of this vital market. "At last," he said, we feel we have found the proper location and more importantly an area which will provide an ample parking area and room for future expansion. The Center will have a parking area for over 6,000 automobiles. Traffic flow is expected to reach upwards of 36,000 automobiles daily.

In appointing Rykowski to manage the new San Diego College Grove department store, Homer F. Torrey, New-York-based vice president and general sales manager of the 1,700-store coast-to-coast chain, said: "We feel that Mr. Rykowski is eminently well-suited for this assignment. It is the policy of the Penney Co. to assign the proper man to the proper store in a location with which he is completely familiar. Rykowski—with many, many years experience in West Coast department store operation—is, we feel, the man for College Grove.

Shopping hours at the new department store will be from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Mondays, Thursday and Fridays. Family shopping hours from 9.30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. will be observed on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Parents Complain Of 'Near-Nude' Picture Sales

Irate parents in Lemon Grove this week complained to the sheriff's office that their young children had come home from the carnival with postcard-size "pinup-type" pictures of nearly-nude women.

Charlie W. Zaleckis, one of the parents, said that his seven-year-old daughter had brought home one of the pictures and said that "a clown" at the carnival had sold it to her for two cents.

Other children, Zaleckis said, reported that they had bought the pictures from a "a machine" at the carnival.

Sheriff's sergeant Robert Ryan looked at the pictures and said that there apparently was nothing illegal about their sale.

"The carnival people could have exercised a little more discrimination in picking their customers, though," he said.

Grossmont Hospital Opens New Additions

Dedication Ceremonies Scheduled For Aug. 15

Two important events will be observed at Grossmont Hospital Monday, August 15—dedication of the new additions and celebration of the hospital's fifth birthday. Ceremonies will be held at 10:30 A.M., and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Completion of the new wings provides facilities for 134 additional beds, giving Grossmont Hospital a capacity of 245 beds—an increase of 110 per cent.

The special ceremonies being planned will provide an opportunity for residents of the district to visit the new facility, which has become such a vital, integral part of the community.

"Grossmont Hospital stands as a tribute to the vision, determination and generosity of the people in the district which it serves," commented Mr. L. M. Peelyon, Hospital Administrator. "It was designed and created to provide modern, efficient medical care and treatment to help insure the health and welfare of thousands of patients each year, and Grossmont Hospital has far exceeded the goals for which it was established.

"To continue measuring its progress in terms of successful growth, the Board of Directors, headed by President R. Marvin Jackson, the administrative and medical staffs urge your constant understanding and support. Visit your hospital August 15, acquaint yourself with its duties and responsibilities, its growth and achievements, and help us celebrate the hospital's fifth birthday."

Careful planning and economical construction have provided residents of Grossmont Hospital District a facility with every modern innovation, at a cost well below the national average. With completion of the new additions, the total cost for construction of the hospital was only $15,696 a bed—the average cost per bed in the United State is approximately $22,000.

Since the hospital was dedicated in 1955, over 36,000 patients have been admitted, over 9,000 babies born in its maternity wards and over 34,000 emergency cases treated.

Present operating costs have reached $1,800,000 a year, or about $5,000 daily, and these figures will show a substantial increase with opening of the new facilities.

Through efficient management of the board of directors and administrative staff, Grossmont Hospital has constantly reduced its maintenance and operating assessments, and has, since 1957, returned over $177,000 in discounts to residents of the district while maintaining rates lower than the average hospital.

Included among the many innovations to be found at Grossmont is a quiet, secluded chapel or meditation room within the hospital, which is available to those wishing a private sanctuary. Hospital officials felt that physical and spiritual requirements are closely related and that this new area will add much to community service.

All air circulated throughout Grossmont Hospital is electronically washed and is maintained as pure as scientifically possible. The building was planned on a positive pressure system, so that air is always out-going and not recirculated, thereby eliminating any possibility of cross contamination or infection by air. In addition to the sterilization of air, many of the major areas, such as Nurseries, Surgery, Delivery Rooms, Laboratories, etc., also have automatically controlled temperature and humidity.

An emergency power plant, which automatically operates every 48 hours as a test of assurance of its availability, can maintain the hospital's power plant — including two elevators—during any major emergency condition. Also, the two high pressure steam boilers, capable of operating on natural gas or oil, could continue to function during an emergency as long as a fuel oil supply was available.

A complete storeroom and inventory control system is maintained on some 25,000 items, which are necessary to sustain an operation of this size, and this department purchases approximately $25,000 worth of supplies and equipment each month.

It requires an average of 2½ persons per each patient in the hospital, and the salary schedules necessary to employ some 500 people accounts for 70 per cent of the cost of successfully operating the institution. All employees work a 40-hour week, and, as it is necessary that the hospital function 24 hours a day, including Sundays, three persons, plus a relief, must be employed to fill each major classification.

For providing high quality medical and hospital care in all services and for maintaining as its primary objective the safety and welfare of the patient, the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals accredited Grossmont Hospital in March 1960. The Joint Commission consists of the American College of Physicians, American College of Surgeons, American Hospital Association and American Medical Association.

In 1957 the Modern Hospital of the Year Planning Award was conferred upon Grossmont Hospital by the Bureau of Hospitals, California State Department of Public Health. This award is given on the basis of excellence of architectural design, functional planning, economy of construction and operation, and proper provision for hospital needs of the community.

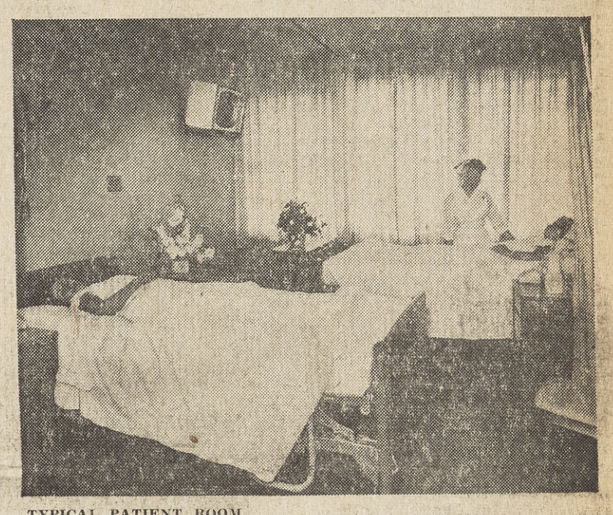
EMERGENCY ROOM

A newly-arrived patient is quickly prepared for treatment in the Emergency Room at Grossmont Hospital. This room is one of the busiest in the hospital, treating over six hundred cases a month—an average of twenty a day. This new facility is located on the ground floor of the new wing, where it is easily accessible, and adjacent to a fourteen-bed observation ward, where emergency cases may remain until sufficiently recovered or transferred to the main wing.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY GIFT SHOP

The Women's Auxiliary of Grossmont Hospital approximates seven hundred women, who serve in many volunteer capacities involving receptions, patient services, clerical procedures, sewing and many other projects, including the Annual Harvest Ball, the Polo Matches and Annual Garden Tour. Proceeds from the Gift Shop are directed to the Hospital Philanthropic Fund which provides free bed care for needy, deserving residents of the hospital district.

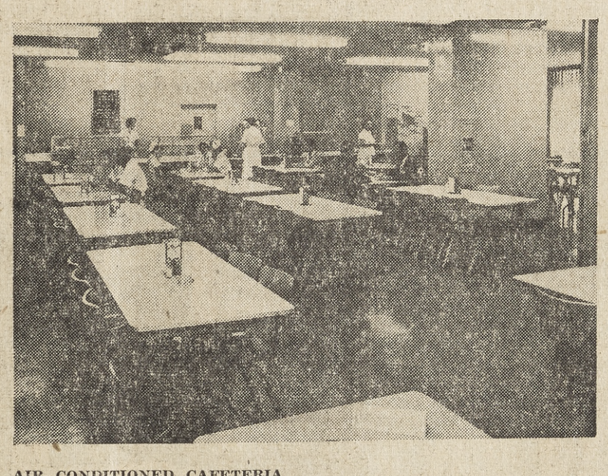


TYPICAL PATIENT ROOM

All patient rooms provide a cheery, restful and interesting atmosphere. Each room accommodates the most modern equipment, such as piped-in oxygen and suction, the newest beds and mattresses, television and telephone service (colored phones in OB) that insure privacy without additional cost. Isolation can be achieved by the sliding curtains, and the staggered bed system gives each patient a view of the outside and activities transpiring in the corridor.

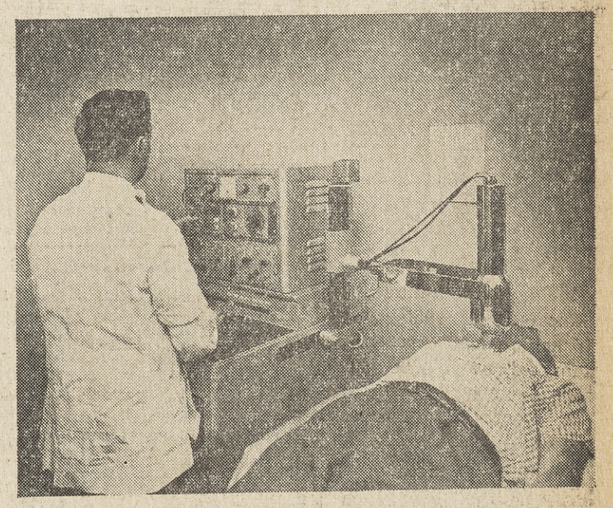
CLINICAL LABORATORY

This laboratory, which is under the direct supervision of Howard A. Ball, M.D., Pathologist, Director, assisted by William C. Herrick, M.D., Associate Pathologist, is a modern and well equipped laboratory which carries out all usual procedures necessary for diagnostic purposes. Such tests are conducted on the request of attending physicians. A branch blood bank is maintained within the laboratory area. Laboratory services are available twenty-four hours a day.



AIR CONDITIONED CAFETERIA

The redecorated and enlarged cafeteria at Grossmont Hospital is used mainly by hospital personnel, guests and ambulatory patients. By means of sliding wall panels, the large room can be divided into smaller, multiple-purpose rooms for medical staff and auxiliary meetings, classrooms, etc. The kitchen serves over six thousand meals a month to hospital patients and also provides service to the Coffee Shop, which is available to all visitors.

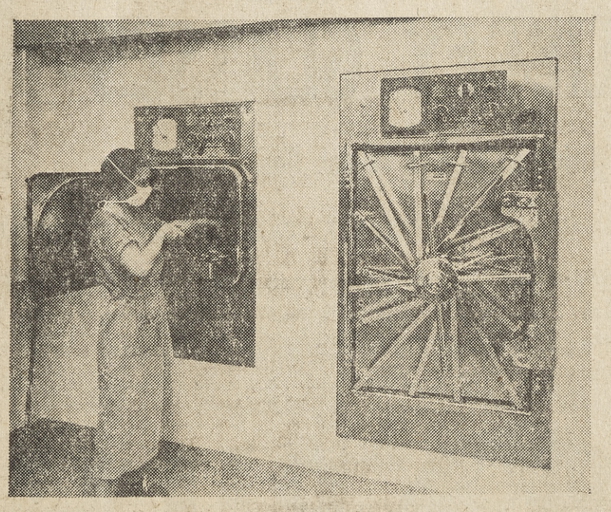


RADIO-ISOTOPE LABORATORY

One of the latest pieces of scientific equipment added to the hospital's modern facilities is the Radio-Isotope Laboratory, one of the finest available in this area. This is an adjunct service of the X-ray Department, which is under the capable guidance of John C. Flaniken, M.D., Radiologist In addition to the Isotope Laboratory, the X-ray department in Grossmont Hospital is equipped with the latest diagnosic units and X-ray therapy units.

GROSSMONT HOSPITAL PHARMACY

Another extremely active department with Grossmont Hospital is the Pharmacy. This department orders, stocks and supplies all the necessary drugs and medications that are needed for doctors' prescriptions and orders to the patients. It is under the supervision of three registered pharmacists and additional assistants. Along with the Pharmacy are pharmacy storerooms, drug rooms on the patient floors and additional medication stations at each nurse's station.



OPERATING ROOM CENTRAL SUPPLY

Miss June Goggin, R.N., Operating Supervisor, removes surgical instruments from the high speed sterilizer in the new Operating Room Central Supply. This equipment sterilizes instruments in three minutes, a process that formerly took twenty minutes. The large autoclave on the right is used for sterilizing large packs and solutions. These units are automatically controlled. Recording gauges and three technical tests guarantee complete sterilization.

Chamber Sponsored Lighting District Cost Set By Gasco

The Lemon Grove chamber of commerce board of directors heard a report from the San Diego Gas and Electric Co. on a proposed lighting district for the L.G. business district Monday at its regular monthly board meeting.

Donald W. Wissinger, street lighting consultant for the gas company, estimated the cost of lighting the stretch from North ave., where it curves into Broadway west of Massachusetts, to Olive st., where the road bottleneck occurs, at $60,000.

He proposed to erect 67 standards for the lights. The cost would be about $6.80 a front foot for installation and three to four cents a foot monthly for lighting and maintenance. The lower rate would apply if the county took the contract. The higher rate would be charged if SDG&E took care of it. Wissinger said the cost included an estimated 20 per cent which represents the cost of doing the work in a 1911 Improvement Act, and interest on the obligation.

The board is now studying ways to implement the proposal.

President Larry Folda took reports from Bob Vaught's finance committee (solvent) and Hank Templeton's membership committee (3 new members—Omar's Sweepers, William H Barrett, and Mother's beer saloon). Jim Spears reported on the acceptance by the chamber sign committee of a $7,500 sign to be erected at the west end of the community. George Scott, College Grove department store operator (Walker Scott) also accepted the plan and proposal, Spears said. Scott, a chamber director, is paying for the sign. It will replace a smaller sign already operating. Spears said the smaller sign would be moved to the east end of Lemon Grove.

The board approved a request by Bill Vandenberg that the chamber request Broadway business firms to require their employes to park other than on Broadway. He said the condition had become particularly bad on the south side of Broadway between Imperial and Grove streets.

What's Doing in the PTA

The program committee of the Vista La Mesa PTA met in the home of first vice president and program chairman, Mrs. R. Christiansen, recently, to plan the program for the following year. The theme for 1960-61 will be "Operation Information." Emphasis will be to bring pertinent information to each meeting.

Plans were approved for the membership drive. Mrs. M. B. Koenekamp is chairman.

Those attending were Clarence Allen, principal; Mrs. H. M. Shockley, president; Mrs. A. C. Olson, parliamentarian; Mrs. H. Walba, Mrs. E. M. Villarino, Mrs. J. V. Ugrin, Mrs. M. B. Koenekamp and Mrs. H. W. Waples.

AROUND WORLD

The Grove theater—refrigeration air conditioned—has scheduled "Around the World in 80 Days" for showing on August 10, according to Don Dunham, theater manager. Dunham said that his will be the only theater in the area to carry the film.

The Mail Box

Dear Editor:

The other morning about 11:30 a little dog jumped out the window of its owner's car and looked for its master who had gone into the market to buy it some food. In hunting for its owner it ran to Broadway across from the store. When its owner came out he saw his dog was gone so he called for it. And it heard him and started running across Broadway to find its master as a high powered car came in sight and hit the little dog which could have been avoided with half a try.

It was heart breaking for the owner to tenderly pick up his little pet and carry it back to the car, and hurry to a vet. hospital where it was found it was dead account of a fractured head.

The owner lived alone in an apartment with his little pet and every evening as he came home from work the little dog would jump for joy at seeing its master and its master would be enjoying the pleasure of seeing his little dog as he rode home from work every evening.

That's all over now for the master as his little dog is gone and it takes years to forget. I know, as I haven't forgotten my dog Smoky who also was hit by a careless driver.

I would imagine it wouldn't be very pleasant for one to live the rest of their lives thinking about a poor animal they crippled or killed with their car.

A good rule to follow for all dog owners with their pets in their cars is to close car windows part way so the animal could not jump out.

No matter how well the animal is trained to obey commands there is always a first time and it could be fatal to your pet.

District to Save $1,000 A Year on Insurance

Carter and Higgins Co. of San Diego was appointed insurance broker for the Lemon Grove elementary school district Monday night at the regular board meeting.

The change will save the district about $1,000 a year in insurance premiums, the board indicated.

The district's program has been under study since last year at which time the insurance was spread among several local brokerage firms. Local as well as San Diego city firms were invited to bid on the program. Carter and Higgins insures many of the county's school districts' facilities at present.

In other action the board voted to inform the County Registrar of Voters that a bond election will be held in the district on October 18. The bonds will amount to $750,000. The district will also ask authorization to accept a loan of one-and a-half million dollars from the state.

The funds will be used to complete the district's master plan which includes purchase of another school site. The board plans to complete five projects which would accommodate a student population of 5,000.

After this capacity is reached the new site would be utilized. The projects are at San Altos San Miguel, Palm Ave. and junior high. Training classroom for mentally retarded would also be provided.

Upon a recommendation by Superintendent Byron Netzley the board approved two four weeks swimming courses for 300 junior high school students of Palm ave. school at Carmar Ranch club. Students would pay 10c a day for use of the club's facilities. The district would pay one dollar a person for instruction.

Netzley said the program was to make up for lack of shower and locker facilities at Palm.

Throwin' the Bull

By Bob Turnbull

Allied Artists' "Hell to Eternity" is the story of Guy Gabaldon, who as an 18-year-oid U.S. Marine from Los Angeles was awarded the Silver Star after capturing nearly 2,000 Japanese single-handedly during the Saipan and Tinian campaigns in World War II.

It is an exciting, tense drama well acted and directed.

This Atlantic Pictures production which Irving H. Levin produced and Phil Karlson directed, stars Jeffery Hunter as Gabaldon. His two Marine Corps buddies are played by David Janssen, who scored so heavily in TV as the star of the "Richard Diamond, Detective" series, and singer Vic Damone playing a straight dramatic role for the first time. Both are excellent.

Patricia Owens portrays a glacial journalist who unthaws and performs a seductive dance at a wild party in Honolulu.

Sessue Hayakawa also is starred, playing the Japanese commandant of Saipan, a powerful role similar to that in "The Bridge of the River-Kwai" that won for him an Academy Award nomination. His wife, Tsuro Aoki, is featured in the film. They, too, are excellent.

Also in the cast is Miiko Taka, Bill Williams, Richard Eyer, Michi Kobi and ReiKo Sato, good as a shapely Oriental beauty.

More than 1,000 service men and hundreds of Japanese and Okinawans appear in the violent battle scenes. At the press preview I attended, the audience often broke into applause over the well staged battles. Of the 1,200 Okinawans cast as Japanese soldiers, 60 per cent actually had worn the Japanese uniform during World War II.

Gabaldon, as a fatherless boy, was taken into the home of a Los Angeles Nisei family and reared in traditional Japanese fashion. Here he learned their language and received their love.

The Marines took him in because of his fluency with the Japanese tongue. On Saipan he repeatedly went behind enemy lines, speaking to the Japanese in their own language talking many of them into surrendering. Then in one grand sweep, he single-handedly took in over 800 prisoners in a tense scene.

His Silver Star citation states that his action saved the lives of hundreds of Marines.
